

LA REE

BOUTIQUE

LA REE PRESS

THE LEGEND OF LA REE

Our grandmother had impeccable taste and was chic even into her twilight years. We spent hours with her playing dress-up and learning how to be a lady. It's family legend that she modeled for Vogue in the '30s. We later learned the truth: She was actually a sweater model for a company that advertised in Vogue, but still, how many women can say that their picture was in Vogue?

Rachel Nov also had a grandmother who influenced her sense of fashion. And given the high level of style at her boutique La Ree in Bellevue, she must have had some grannie. We're not ones to gush, but we loved this elegant shop nestled on a side street in Old Bellevue. Look out for accessories like sunglasses from Oliver Peoples, signature Missoni Sport scarves, and gems by local jeweler Jamie Joseph.

With high-end designer Robert Rodriguez having found a natural home here and the latest Anna Sui runway show being broadcast on the flat screen, La Ree is a paradise for the discerning fashionista.

La Ree Boutique
11 103rd Ave. NE
Bellevue, WA 98004
425.453.7868

FIND | BEAUTIFUL | STYLE

11 103RD AVENUE NE BELLEVUE WASHINGTON 98004
T: 425.453.7868 W: LAREEBOUTIQUE.COM